FRANKLIN PIERCE. By the President:

Commissioner of the General Land Office.

Notice to actual settlers on lands of the United States originally withdrawn from market on account of the raitroad grant.

Under act of Congress, approved 3d March, 1853, entitled "An act to extend pre-emption rights to certain lauds therein mentioned," the pre-emption laws of the United States as they now exist are extended over the atternate reserved sections of public lands along the line of the railroad herein-before mentioned, where the settlement and im-provement were made prior to the final allotment of the alternate sections to the said railroad. There fore, all claims by pre-emption to any of the alternate sections of public lands within the limits originally reserved will attach, if predicated upon settlements made prior to the 4th February, 1853, the date of the final allotment.

Claims within the six miles limits must be proven up at any time before the day herein fixed for the commencement of the public sale, and are to be paid for at the rate of two dollars and fifty cents. he alternate sections to the said railroad.

per acre. Claims outside of the six miles, and within the limits of the original reservation, must be proven up prior to the restoration of said lands to private entry.

Soldiers' bounty land warrants, at a dollar and twenty-five cents per acre, may be received in payment for either class of lands; one warrant only, however, can be located by each pre-emptor. Immediately after the close of the publ directed by the foregoing proclamation of the Pre-sident, applications will be received for the pur-chase at private entry, or location by warrants, of the lands reserved to satisfy this grant, outside of the six miles limits, in such order as to prevent confusion and insure accuracy, in accordance with instructions to be issued to the registers and receivers.

VEBSTER'S WORKS .- Sixth Edition.

The Speeches, Forensic Arguments, and Diplomatic Papers of DANIEL WEBSTER; with a Notice of his Life and Works, by Enwand Everant. In 6 vols. 8vo. cloth. Price $12

IT speaks favorably, we think, for the intelligence and sound national feeling of the people of this country, that Messrs. Little. Byown & Cohave been called upon to issue the sixth without the Webster's Works. We have been struck with the justice of the opinion expressed by a distinguished clergyman of Philadelphia, in a discourse on the character of Mr. Webster, that "the best thing we can do for training our young men is to place in their hands the works of this great statesman;" and also of its remark upon the influence of that recommendation, "I feel that I have rendered every family a useful service, which may have been induced, through my recommendation, to give it a place among their household books." From a general conviction of the truth here expressed, in addition to the interest which every intelligent reader who once enters upon the prussel of Mr. Webster's speeches or writings, either from the importance of the subjects treated, the soundness and force of the views expressed, or from the charm of the style and manner of discussion, we have no doubt that these works will attain a much wider circulation and a far more general perusal, than those of any other American author. The excellent manner in which the work is published, and the reasonableness of the price, recommends it to some extent, that the edition above referred to, edited by Mr. Everett, may be hereafter superseded we learn that an idea has been entertained, to some extent, that the edition above referred to, edited by Mr Everett, may be hereafter superseded by another and more complete edition. This is a mistake. This edition was compiled and edited with great care during the lifetime of Mr. Webster, with all the assistance which he could afford for rendering it complete, and no new edition can supersede it. Should there be a further publication of correspondence or miscellander is will be supersection of correspondence or miscellanies, it will be in the form of an addition which will in no degree impair the value of the present edition, bu would tend to increase its interest.

In confirmation of this fact we are authorized to publish the following letter from Mr. Fletcher Webster, one of the executors of the late Mr. Webster:

"Boston, January 10, 1853.

"Massas. Little, Brown & Co.—Gentlemen: I have been informed that frequent inquiries are made of you as to the completeness of your edition of Mr Webster's works.

"The present volumes, edited by Mr. Everett and published by you, contain every thing, up to March, 1852, which was intended to be included March, 1852, which was intended to be included in his entire published works.

"It is probable that one or two volumes of correspondence may hereafter be collected and published in the same style with your six volumes. This cannot be considered as definitively decided upon; but it is certain that no publication will be made which will render your edition incomplete, or in any way diminish its value. or in any way diminish its value.

Yours, very respectfully, "FLETCHER WEBSTER." "We have already expressed, very decidedly the opinion that the Boston Webster Memorial, also published by Mesers. Little, Brown & Co., is also published by Messrs. Little, Brown & Co., is the most satisfactory and interesting of all the books which his death has called from the press. The subjects presented are well selected and treated with excellent taste and feeling, and it contains the most valuable of the tributes to the memory of the deceased statesman."—Boston Daily Advertiser "These volumes are a collection of imperishable models in constitutional law, jurisprudence, international law, diplomacy, finance, legislation, and literature—a collection not to be matched by this, and hardly by any other country, in capital and multiform excellence. There is not a page in these books which may not give the world assurance of a transcendent intellect; not a page which will not make posterity prouder of the land of their fathers. These productions will be perpetuated as long as the English language endures."

"Distinguished men have monuments erected

Ince York Courier and Enquirer.

"Distinguished men have monuments erected for them by their grateful countrymen, and sometimes by the people of another nation, or by a remote posterity. Daniel Webster has taken care to build his own, and in his lifetime. The six ample volumes of his works just published by Messrs Little & Brown, of Boston, will constitute a more precious and durable memorial of his existence and his greatness, than the granite column, the marble or brazen bust.

"We shall not attempt to mention, nor even hint at, the deservings of Mr. Webster, still less to compare him with other men. There is a shorter course, which is to invite the community to weigh and value them for themselves. There are his works, such of them as have been collected. There they stand. They shall speak for him. They want only to have readers to create admirers."

[Newark Desily Advertiser.

"In company with the writings of Washington."

"In company with the writings of Washington and Frankiin, they constitute a most essertial part of the history of our Republic. No lane of part of the history of our Republic. No lapse of time can destroy their value so long as the world shall feel an interest in knowing how the great-ness of the American nation was built up and pre-served, and how the genus and spirit of the peo-ple in the nineteenth century were embodied and personified in one eminent individual—emphati-

Several important changes have been made in the department of instruction, which will give to it greater extent and efficiency, and will render its advantages available to a larger number of students. Two additional professors have been appointed, one in the department of Ancient Languages, and the other in that of Mathematics. The scientific course has been extended so as to exceed guages, and the other in that of Mathematics. The scientific course has been extended so as to embrace practical surveying, the elements of engineering, and other kindred branches. Young men who are not candidates for a degree may, under the direction of the Faculty, select such studies as are suited to their views and objects in life, and may receive a certificate of their attainments therein. Youths who are not fully prepared to enter the college classes will receive such instruction as will fit them to enter upon the regular college course.

nent and judicious persons in various sections of the country, have decided to commence, on the first of January, 1863, AN ENTIRELY ORIGINAL PERIODICAL, under the above title.

It is intended to combine the lighter characteristics of a popular magazine with the higher and graver qualities of a quarterly review, filling a position hitherto unoccupied in our literature.

While attractive variety for the general reader is thus obtained, there will be an attempt to secure substantial accellance in each department.

To accomplish this we intend that the work in all its mechanical and business aspects shall be such as will meet the views of our most distinguished writers—such a medium as they would seek for in communicating with the world, and such as may tempt some to write ably and profitably who have not hitherto contributed to periodicals.

We intend that all estisless at the second of the contributed to periodicals.

bly who have not hitherto contributed to periodicals.

We intend that all articles admitted into the work shall be liberally paid for.

We believe that an ample material exists for such a work; that there is no lack either of talent among our writers or of appreciation on the part of the reading public; and that a properly conducted periodical of this kind may bring to light much true genius as yet undeveloped.

"Putnam's Monthly" will be devoted to the interests of Literature, Science and Art—in their best and pleasantest aspects.

Entirely independent of all merely selfish interests, or partisan or sectional leanings, in its management, it will be open to competent writere for free discussion of such topics as are deemed important and of public interest.

The critical department will be wholly independent of the publishers, and, as far as possible, of all personal influenceorbias. Wholesomecastigations of public abuses will be allowed a fair field without fear or favor.

f public abuses will be allowed a fair field without fear or favor.

An elevated national tone and spirit, American and independent, yet discriminating and just, both to the literature and to the social condition nd prospects of both hemispheres, will be cultifuted as a leading principle of the work.

Special attention will be given to matters connected with social policy, municipal regulations public health and safety, and the practical economies of every-day life.

While a subject needs illustration, or pictorial example, such illustrations will be occasionally given; but it is not expected that the success of the work is to depend on what are termed "embellishments."

By the act approved June 17, 1844, the Secretary of the Senate is "directed to confine his purchases exclusively to articles of the growth and manufacture of the United States, provided the same can be procured of such growth and manufacture of suitable quality and at reasonable prices, upon as good terms as to quality and price as can be obtained of foreign growth and manufacture." A preference will therefore be given to the productions of American industry; and all persons making proposals to supply any article will state whether the same is of the growth and manufacture of the United States.

The articles must be delivered at the office of the Secretary of the Senate at Washington, free of any charge for carriage, on or before the lat of October next.

Every article must be of the very best quality, unless an inferior article is called for.

The right is expressly reserved, in case it shall be necessary, to order, upon giving reasonable no tice, any additional quantity of any or all of said articles that may be required for the use of the Senate during the thirty-third Congress.

A sufficient specimen of each article proposed for (of paper half a quire, and of envelopes 25) is to accompany the proposal, and to be marked with the name of the proposer and the price of the article. The whole of each article specified in the foregoing list will be deemed a class; and the person offering to furnish any such class at the lowest price (quality considered) will receive a contract for the same, on executing a bond, with two or more sureties, satisfactory to the Secretary of the Senate, for the performance thereof, under a forfeiture of twice the contract price in case of failure, which bond is to be filed in the office of the Senate, for the performance thereof, under a forfeiture of twice the contract price in case of failure, which bond is to be filed in the office of the said Secretary within ten days after the proposals have been accepted.

If any article contracted for should not be delivered within the time stipulated, or should be inferlor in any respect to the sample, the bond of the contractor will be put in suit.

Proposals should be endorsed "Proposals for Stationery for the Senate," and be directed to the Secretary of the Senate at Washington.

Proposals and specimens must be delivered at the office free of charge.

ASBURY DICKINS, Secretary of the Senate. June 8-law4w ENGLISH REPORTS IN LAW & EQUITY common Law, Equity, Criminal. Admi-ralty, and Ecclesiastical Reports Com-bined.

The only Complete Series of English Reports Pullished. THE UNPRECEDENTED patronage this series of Reports has received has now established it upon a permanent basis. It will be regularly continued on the same terms as heretofore, and will contain ALI THE REPORTED CASES in all the English Courts, UNABRIDGED and UNCONDENSED. Subscribers may rely on having an exact reprint of every English Case, and ready for delivery here a few weeks after its publication abroad. This Series combines the cases of about Twenty Series of English Reports, and is the only work published which contains all the decided cases. Vol. I. commences with the decisions of Michaelmas (November) Term, A. D. 1850, or about the 15th and 16th vol. of Adolphus and Ellis, in the Queen's Bench; vol. 10 of Manning, Granger and Scott, in the Common Pleas; and vol. 5th of Weleby, Hurlstone and Gordon, in the Exchequer.

This Series of Reports the publishers confidently recommend to the profession, as containing all the English cases upon each special department of the law, and at the same time comprising the whole body of the law in a cheap, accurate, and convergent for the common with the cars, and convergence of the law in a cheap, accurate, and convergence of the Union Line on the Ohio, and the Stages to Zanesville, &c.

eries of Reports.

"WASHINGTON, January 19, 1852. "Messrs. Little & Brown: In the republication of the 'English Reports in Law and Equity,' you render to the profession a most important service. The first volume of these reports includes cases decided in the House of Lords, Privy Council, Courts of Equity and Common Law, from and after Michaelmas term, 1850; also 'Crown Cases Reserved, and Cases in the Ecclesiastical and Admiralty Courts' And the second, third, fourth, and fifth volumes, which you have republished, include the cases decided in the above courts in 1851. "These Reports, like all other works which proclude the cases decided in the above courts in 1851.

"These Reports, like all other works which proceed from your press, are executed in a most substantial manner, and do credit to the enterprise of the publishers. I became a subscriber for them as soon as they were found with the booksellers of the West, and I am convinced that, from their cheapness and extent of matter, they must supersede, at least in this country, all other English Reports of late decisions.

Law and Equity Reports, by the Jurist and Law Journal for many years, but more so, for the last year, through your republication. I have no doubt they will supply every thing which the profession
generally will desire, from all the English Reports, and in a form and at an expense altogether unobjectionable. They are furnished so much earlier than any other series of English Reports in this country, that your republication will be almost indispensable to every member of the profession who desires to keep pace with the history of English jurisprudence. The notes, by the American editors, are a valuable addition, and I am inclined to believe the work will prove to be the most desirable and least expensive of any series of English Reports republished in this country.

"NEW YORK, May 17, 1852.

"The English Law and Equity Reports, edited by Messrs. Bennett & Smith, are, I think, a great convenience and benefit to the profession. Such examination as I have given these volumes convinces me of the accuracy and diligence of the editors; and the Reports appear to me the most convenient and compendious form in which the English Reports are presented to us.

"WILLIAM KENT."

"It is impossible to read these Reports without high admiration of the learning of the English courts and bar, and an ardent desire to see in our country the bench filled, as it is in England, with the most eminent lawyers, without distinction of party, and with a salary which makes the office respected and respectable. We again commend the work to every practicing lawyer, as the cheapest and best edition of the Englist Reports."
